

Rocket Science

NERIAH

Superficial small talk
Surface level, we'd walk
You'd fake a smile in front of company
The smallest things set you off
Didn't matter what I did, it was my fault
You even made me hate my family

I watched you give your everything to everyone but me
And now I'm twenty-five and still questioning

Why was loving me
Rocket science
I'm not impossible, but
You just weren't trying
If you saw me now
Could you justify
Would you say sorry
Would you tell me why, oh
Why was loving me
Rocket science, science, science

Birthday party's over
The coldest nights got colder
I screamed, then cried
Until I fell asleep
But the truth is, I need closure
Are you ever gonna hand it over
Are you, are you, are you

I watched you give your all to everyone else but me
Will I be eighty-five and still question

Why was loving me
Rocket science
I'm not impossible, but
You just weren't trying
If you saw me now
Could you justify
Would you say sorry
Would you tell me why, oh
Why was loving me
Rocket science, science, science
