

Break Up At the Disco

Nerina Pallot

You had me blinded
But I triggered the light, triggered the light
And you stole the show
When I said I was open minded
What did I know, what did I know, what did I know?

You, you take so long to know
There's something wrong
I'm giving up
I'm gone, gone, gone

Well, I don't lose but this ain't winning
Take me back to the beginning
I've just about had, just about had, just about had enough
Don't call me when you're under the weather
I'll only say, "Pull yourself together"
I've just about had, just about had, just about had enough

No, thank you, no
Really don't plead, really don't plead
"It was just bad luck"
So I'm indisposed
So it shall be, so it shall be every time you call me up, up, oh

You go click, click, click
And I feel sick, sick, sick
I know I will get over it

Yeah, I don't lose but this ain't winning
Take me back to the beginning
I've just about had, just about had, just about had enough
Don't call me when you're under the weather
I'll only say, "Pull yourself together"
I've just about had, just about had, just about had enough

Lord won't you buy me a millionaire
Who doesn't have a wife or a girlfriend in a closet somewhere?

Well, I don't lose but this ain't winning
Take me back to the beginning
I've just about had, just about had, just about had enough
Don't call me when you're under the weather
I'll only say, "Pull yourself together"
I've just about had, just about had, just about had enough

Don't call me boy, don't call me, I've just had enough now
Don't call me, don't you call me, I've just had enough now
Don't you call me, don't you call me, boy, boy, boy
