

Free As You Wanna Be

Nerina Pallot

I don't believe in God, but I got faith
Like I could never been to Mars, but I know the space
Maybe it's an oxymoron
Maybe it's the truth
'Cause anybody knows anything for sure
And if they do
What's the bend they wear uniform
Oh, in 87 minutes they'll start a war
Or they'll try to sell something that would save your soul
Boy you're back down with them
In their big black hole
What you're getting a brain form
To waste it on the news
A fool and his young never see the view

You're as free as you wanna be
As free as you'll ever be
Don't let nobody tell you otherwise
You're as free as you wanna be
As free as you'll ever be
Just oooo-ooo-open up your eyes

I say let the people love who they wanna love
'Cause that's the one thing that
We don't do enough
You get such little time to walk upon the serve
Who're you to judge what another human's worth?!
What you got a heart for? To waste it all on hate?!
You just mind your business before it is too late

You're as free as you wanna be
As free as you'll ever be
Don't let nobody tell you otherwise
You're as free as you wanna be
As free as you'll ever be
Just oooo-ooo-open up your eyes!
Yeah, you're as free as you wanna be
As you are, as you'll ever be
You as free as you're wanna be
As free as you'll ever be
Just oooo-ooo-open up your eyes!

La la la la la la la la
La la la la la la la la
La la la la la la la la
I don't believe in God, but I got faith
We're smart enough to fix this all one day
I say I don't believe in God, but I got faith
That we're smart enough to fix this all one day
