

Setting Sail

Nerina Pallot

We face the music together
And throw our hats in the ring
Facing all kinds of weather
And not afraid of anything
When the sun comes up, we'll be on our way
And we don't care where we land
And the waves are high, but we don't turn 'round
'Cause your hand is in my hand

And you, you make me feel invincible
'Cause it's you and me
Through the wind and hail
Setting sail into the world

We built a house out of nowhere
And hung our hearts on the walls
I guess it all got too familiar
We let it crumble, we let it fall
In the mundane stuff of the day to day
We forget what used to be
So I kick myself to remind myself
That it all comes back to me

When we were scared of nothing, love
It was you and me
Through the wind and hail
Setting sail into the world
