

Waking Silence

Neurotech

Body taints the cold inside
Body warms the cold with fire in your mind

Walking on fields of grey
Of what I've left behind
Nothing left to shield the rain
It's always by my side

Doesn't hurt to be ready
To face the last light of the day

Waking up from the silence

Departing from pale decay
Of what I've left confined
And everything I've failed to say
It's always on my mind

Doesn't hurt to be ready
To face the last light of the day

Waking up from the silence

It will only make it weaker
If you tell how you feel in your heart
Once you'll become a seeker
Tell what you fear deep inside

Body taints the cold inside
Body warms the cold with fire in your mind
