Rain

Neuroticfish

You let it rain, for everybody who is not insane...
...not exactly, cannot vouch for my own brain
I'm entangled and intrigued once again
Unable to restrict myself

You let it rain, for everybody except yourself from the pain
Confusion is the only state, I can sustain...
...longer than I thought, I would to explain...
...and bury my own demons

Stop my heart, leave it forever
Blame yourself for the denial
You came too close
Too close to be clever
I'll cast you out into exile
Help yourself with all that you've broken
I chose to leave it all behind
Not triggered anymore
By all that you're provoking
At least I'll have my peace of mind

You let it rain, feel the anger that has left a stain
On my body, There is nothing left to gain
I am stumbling never to...
...return the same, trying to convince myself

You let it rain, I have just released yourself, from the chain.
..
...around my neck, Something that I can't explain
This is what I can't take back
But once again, I'm digging for my demons

Stop my heart, leave it forever
Blame yourself for the denial
You came too close
Too close to be clever
I'll cast you out into exile
Help yourself with all that you've broken
I chose to leave it all behind
Not triggered anymore
By all that you're provoking
At least I'll have my peace of mind
