

Reinvent The Pain

Neuroticfish

I press my hands against the wall
To realize there is nothing at all
I press my eyes to the window screen
To realize there is nothing inbetween

I close my eyes in fear again
But nothing ever feels the same
I close my eyes in fear again
The liquid that takes all the pain

I sit and watch the distant need
That cracks me up and makes me bleed
A fragment of eternity
Is all I ever need to see

Every time you say my name
You reinvent the pain

Every time you say my name
You reinvent the pain

Go!
