

Rival

Neuroticfish

At first I thought I had no rivals
There was nothing left to lose
I was forced upon arrival
To recognize what I abused

The game is on, I'm not prepared for this
I'll have to run not to be dared
The system's flawed, I can't return from this
'Cause all the bridges seem to burn
'Cause all the bridges seem to burn

At first I thought I had no reason
To be angry at myself
I was caught in my own treason
In a prison of itself

The game is on in full intensity
All the jokes on my expense
These are the rules in all their clarity
But I don't think they make sense

The game is on, I will not stand for this
I'll have to run not to be scared
The system's flawed, I won't return from this
'Cause all the bridges seem to burn
'Cause all the bridges seem to burn
