

Raindrop Blues

Never Shout Never

Raindrops falling through the atmosphere
What would they say if they have conversations
Don't hold your breath, is a long way down
Is the only one way out of this situation

Before we hit the ground my friends
Know I'm on your side if nothing else
And when we die the pain subsides
Know I'm on your side until the end
When we hit the ground we start again

Raindrops falling through the open air
Tiny drops in a endless ocean
The tide comes up then it roles back down
An empty game with no resolution

Before we hit the ground my friends
Know I'm on your side if nothing else
And when we die the pain subsides
Know I'm on your side until the end
When we hit the ground we start again

Before we touch the ground my friends
Know I'm on your side if no one else
And when we splash and all goes black
Know I'm hold your back until the end
When we hit the ground we start again
When we hit the ground we start again
