Another Sentimental Argument

Neverstore

Some times it feels, like it's not real Like it's a movie on TV Broken homes, atomic bombs, fixtion or reality?

What can I do? What can I change? I guess it aint mutch, but I try anyway We have to unite we whole belive That everyone's right is to fill their own needs

Why the hell is this world not heading forward Open your eyes and realise that we are tearing it apart Time to act now cause we only got this planet Do or die but don't deny the fact that we are the once to blame

What can we do what can we change pretty damn mutch if we do, Not just say when push comes to shove we can't run, we can't le ave

Why the hell is this world not heading forward Open your eyes and realise that we are tearing it apart

Why the hell is this world not heading forward Open your eyes and realise that we are tearing it apart Time to act now cause we only got this planet Do or die but don't deny the fact that we are the once to blame