

Backseat

New Found Glory

I'm not asking
For every second of everyday no
You've got ambition
More than being stuck on my hip
My voice used to seem
To go in one ear and out the other
My past left me questioning
Do my words even matter

Angel on your shoulder
Your champion or soldier
One word and I'll be there

I just want to be the one you want
I've taken the back seat to everyone
And I'm tired of feeling like I'm not good enough
No I just want to be the one you want
The one you want
The one you want

When the day makes you pull your hair out
I can be the silence you need
We don't have to agree on colors
Or let a wall divide us

Angel on your shoulder
Your champion or soldier
One word and I'll be there

I just want to be the one you want
I've taken the back seat to everyone
And I'm tired of feeling like I'm not good enough
No I just want to be the one you want

I just want to be the one you want
I've taken the back seat to everyone
And I'm tired of feeling like I'm not good enough
No I just want to be the one you want
The one you want
The one you want

Angel on your shoulder
Your champion or soldier
One word and I'll be there

I just want to be the one you want
I've taken the back seat to everyone
And I'm tired of feeling like I'm not good enough
No I just want to be the one you want

I just want to be the one you want
I've taken the back seat to everyone
And I'm tired of feeling like I'm not good enough
No I just want to be the one you want
The one you want
The one you want
