

Heaven Sent

New Found Glory

The architecture in Barcelona
The night time view of Budapest
I've seen beauty in modern marvels
And your picture sits atop my list

They wanna take you away
They wanna take you, wanna take you away
They wanna take you, wanna take you away
They wanna take you, wanna take you away
From me

You must have fallen from the sky
You're an angel in disguise
I won't expose your wings
You're heaven sent

The vibrant leaves of Kyoto temple
Rain falling down over the Kremlin
I've seen beauty in modern marvels
Even better when you stand in them

They wanna take you away
They wanna take you, wanna take you away
They wanna take you, wanna take you away
They wanna take you, wanna take you away
From me

You must have fallen from the sky
You're an angel in disguise
I won't expose your wings
You're heaven sent
You must have fallen from the sky
You're an angel in disguise
I won't expose your wings
Cause you're heaven sent

There are many mysteries
That remain unsolved
But I know the biggest will be
Why you chose me when
I'm a dead weight and everyone can see
You're keeping me afloat
They want you for their own

They want you for their own

They wanna take you, wanna take you away
From me

You must have fallen from the sky
You're an angel in disguise
I won't expose your wings

You're an angel in disguise

You're an angel in disguise
You're an angel in disguise
You're heaven sent
