

Same Side Sitters

New Found Glory

I'm a lucky one, not from a fortune
Or a jackpot that I won
But because the beauty I found in you
All I thought I knew was blown apart in two
I should have known better
Not to judge a book by its cover
It's true

Your family don't trust me yet
But I swear I won't make you look foolish

So let's sit on the same side
When we're out at your favorite restaurant
And we won't care if the waiter thinks that we look cringey
Sit on the same side at the restaurant
And we'll kiss if we want
Even though the locals think that we look cringey
Maybe they just don't have someone to hold on to
And I'm holding on to you
To you

I'm an honest one, I've got nothing figured out
I take it day by day
And I watch my steps don't want my ego to get the best of me
So I live so you can see transparently that I just want to lift you up
Fly you higher than a kite could ever be

Your friends don't trust me yet
But I swear I won't make you look foolish

So let's sit on the same side
When we're out at your favorite restaurant
And we won't care if the waiter thinks that we look cringey
Sit on the same side at the restaurant
And we'll kiss if we want
Even though the locals think that we look cringey
Maybe they just don't have someone to hold on to
And I'm holding on to you
To you

I'm holding on to you
Holding on to you
Holding on to you
Like Gorilla Glue

I'm holding on to you
Holding on to you
Holding on to you
Like Gorilla Glue

I'm holding on to you (Holding)
Holding on to you (On to you)
Holding on to you (Holding)
Like Gorilla Glue (On to you)

I'm holding on to you (I'm a lucky one)
Holding on to you (Not from a fortune)

Holding on to you (Or a jackpot that I won)
Like Gorilla Glue (But because the beauty I found in you)

Maybe they just don't have someone to hold on to
And I'm holding on to you
