

You Got This

New Found Glory

Your life is a total mess, so what are you gonna do about it?
You reach out and just project, I've got enough to worry about
So stop trying to commiserate, I focus on positivity
Stop using your inability to grow, just stop and leave us alone

Leave us alone

It's a nice gesture you're checking in, but
I hear the echoes from the depths of your own fears
So I can tell what this really is
These charity calls could keep a weak spirit stagnant
Stop all your line of questioning, I'm just trying to move forward
Stop with your inconsistency, real ones know when to stop and leave us alone

Leave us alone

Oh, let's talk about the good times
Leave us alone
Oh, let's talk about the good times

One, two, three
You got this!

I feel so lucky to have so many people fighting by my side
I've seen so many lonely faces without a loved one saying it will work out fine
So I don't want to sound, I don't want to be, I don't want to seem ungrateful
Just if you want to talk, let's let the good times roll
Let's let the good times roll

Leave us alone

Oh, let's talk about the good times
Your life is a total mess, so what are you gonna do about it?
Leave us alone
Oh, let's talk about the good times

One, two, three
You got this!