

Worse

New Hope Club

What's worse than knowing?
Knowing you're not alone
Hearing about you
1AM on my phone
Feels like I'm on fire
Like I'm on ice
Like I'm all broken bones
I was still hoping, hoping
You were still on your own

I swear when you walked away
It didn't hurt me like it hurts me now
And there's one thing I know

If I never see your face again, that will be hard
But if I ever see you with him
That will be worse, worse, worse
If I never see your face again, that will be hard
But if I ever see you with him
That will be worse, worse, worse
That will be worse
That will be worse

Too small a city
Our circles way too close
I thought I was healing
I was just bleeding slow
Feels like I'm on fire
Like I'm on ice
Like I'm all broken bones
If I was blind now
This would be less painful

I swear when you walked away
It didn't hurt me like it hurts me now
And there's one thing I know

If I never see your face again, that will be hard
But if I ever see you with him
That will be worse, worse, worse
If I never see your face again, that will be hard
But if I ever see you with him
That will be worse, worse, worse
That will be worse
That will be worse

Oh, that would be worse
Would be worse
Would be worse
Oh, that would be worse
Would be worse
Would be worse

If I never see your face again, that will be hard
But if I ever see you with him
That will be worse, worse, worse
If I never see your face again, that will be hard

But if I ever see you with him
That will be worse, worse, worse
That will be worse
