

Drunk Texts

New Rules

I've been losin' sleep
Maybe it's 'cause I'm losin' you
I tried countin' sheep
But darlin', there's no use
I lose my place and time
Then lose my mind 'cause
I don't know how
How we let this fade
We were goin' strong
And I know people change
But feelings don't just go away
And I give in to them somedays
And now I hope you don't mind

All of my drunk texts and all the things I've said
Every night I missed you and I wished that you were there
'Cause now I'm on my own and I'm drinkin' to forget
All the little things I love that only us two had
'Cause now all that I have are all of my drunk texts

I die a hundred tiems
Any time I see your face
Pretend like I'm doin' find
But deep down, I'm not the same
Since you left, it don't feel right
You were always on my side in
Early hours of the mornin'
Is when I know just what to say
But maybe it's a little late (Little late)
Just too late

For all of my drunk texts and all the things I've said
Every night I missed you and I wished that you were there
'Cause now I'm on my own and I'm drinkin' to forget
All the little things I love that only us two had
'Cause now all that I have are all of my drunk texts

All of my drunk texts
They're all that I have
Oh, no, no
And I hope you don't mind

All of my drunk texts and all the things I've said
Every night I missed you and I wished that you were there
All of my drunk texts and all the things I've said
Every night I missed you and I wished that you were there
'Cause now I'm on my own and I'm drinkin' to forget
All the little things I love that only us two had
'Cause now all that I have are all of my drunk texts
