

Don't like it in here anymore
I'm starting to feel lifeless and bored
Can taste the bitter sting of bile
Haven't felt much in quite a while
And now all that's left is skin
I think there's been a break in
And now they're crawling through my veins
And this creature, it will reign supreme
It's flowin' through my bloodstream

So, don't look in the mirror, baby
Don't call out her name and say it times three
Don't look in the mirror, baby
Don't call out her name and say it times three
Times three

Don't like this lifestyle anymore
Fakin' this smile until I feel self-assured
The words are comin' out my mouth
Don't know what I used to think about
I looked in the mirror and it's not my grin
I think there's been a break in
And my dreams are gettin' wilder
They act as a reminder
That I am runnin' out of time

So, don't look in the mirror, baby
Don't call out her name and say it times three
Don't look in the mirror, baby
Don't call out her name and say it times three

I think
I think there's been a, been a
I think there's been a break in
I think there's been a break in

So, don't look in the mirror, baby
Don't call out her name and say it times three
Don't look in the mirror, baby
Don't call out her name and say it times three
Don't look in the mirror, baby
Don't call out her name and say it times three
Don't look in the mirror, baby
Don't call out her name and say it times three
Times three