NewDad

Going nowhere
I don't really try
End up in the same place
Every single night
But now our eyes lock
Maybe you feel the same
But None of this is real talk
And I've already forgotten your name

I feel empty
But I don't mind
And I can't even see straight
Most of the time
And I don't remember your name
And I don't even remember mine
I just don't want to feel anything
I'd rather hide
I'd rather hide

Going nowhere
Even when I try
End up in the same headspace
Every single night
But then you call me
Tell me you feel the same
But that isn't what I wanted
And I feel like I'm to blame

I feel empty
But I don't mind
And I can't even see straight
Most of the time
And I don't remember your name
And I don't even remember mine
I just don't want to feel anything
I'd rather hide
I'd rather hide

I don't remember your name
And I don't even remember mine
I don't remember your name
And I don't even remember mine

I feel empty
But I don't mind
And I can't even see straight
Most of the time
And I don't remember your name
And I don't even remember mine
I just don't want to feel anything
I'd rather hide
I'd rather hide
