

You said it's so easy
To fall, to yearn
Not sure what you see in me
Said it's a lovely
Thought, hope
A wonderful Possibility
Said we could go there
Run, play
There's so much to share
God it's so unfair
Waiting, wishing
For them to answer my prayer

Just when I thought it was safe
My heart finds a new way to break
Just thought when I thought I'd be fine
You sneak back into my mind

No compass no raft
Adrift, astray
No way of going back
Gasping for air
Stranded, drowning
Basking in despair
You could throw me a line
And you do
You show you care, every time
And that's why it hurts
Whining, pining
Won't you lift this curse

Just when I thought it was safe
My heart finds a new way to break
Just when I thought I'd be fine
You sneak back into my mind

Just when I thought it was safe
Just when I thought it was safe
Just when I thought it was safe
Just when I thought it was safe

Just when I thought it was safe
My heart finds a new way to break
Just when I thought I'd be fine
You sneak back into my mind

Just when I thought it was safe
My heart finds a new way to break
Just when I thought I'd be fine
You sneak back into my mind
