Waves

NewDad

I think you know you're hurting me
But I don't care I'll be whatever you want me to be
And I don't regret that I looked into the deep blue sea
And with eyes wide open your waves crash over me
And despite the sting I let your waves crash over me

Please hold on
And don't swim out too deep
Don't forget how last time you got dragged underneath
But believe me you
Believe it's true
That if you drag me down
I will drag you down too

I think you know you're hurting me
But I don't care I'll be whatever you want me to be
And I don't regret that I looked into the deep blue sea
And with eyes wide open your waves crash over me
And despite the sting I let your waves crash over me

Please hold on
And don't swim out too deep
Don't forget how last time you got dragged underneath
But believe me you
Believe it's true
That if you drag me down
I will drag you down too
