

Why Worry

NewSong

One little circumstance
Suddenly I'm in a trance
And I'm thinking 'bout
Everything that's going wrong
On the surface all is well
As far as anyone can tell
But inside I know
I'm barely hanging on
Oh, but I am not alone

Cause God is my Father
And He really loves me
And He's right here waiting
Whenever I call
And there's nothing I'll remember
That He has forgotten
So, why should I worry?
Why should I worry at all?

Some days I do just fine
Some days I lose my mind
But through it all
I know I'm in His hands
Sometimes this life can be
Just one big mystery
But I'm learnin' I don't have to understand
So I'll just keep walking tall

Cause God is my Father
And He really loves me
And He's right here waiting
Whenever I call
And there's nothing I'll remember
That He has forgotten
So, why should I worry?
Why should I worry at all?

I pray for wisdom for today
And strength to face tomorrow
I walk with hope along the way
Cause He'll never let me go
He'll never let me go

Cause God is my Father
And He really loves me
And He's right here waiting
Whenever I call
And there's nothing I'll remember
That He has forgotten
So, why should I worry?
Why should I worry at all?

Why should I worry?
Why should I worry?
Why should I worry, at all?