

In the Morning

Newton Faulkner

Morning you
If you're worth talking to
The sun's been up a while
But don't let that make you smile

Makes you tea
Just drink it anonly
Well then you've build a wall
Forget you care at all

In the morning
In the morning
In the morning
In the morning

Another word silence cut through the bird
A few clouds are wide and dry
You come look me in the eye

Morning you
If you're worth talking to
The sun's been up a while
Don't let that make you smile

In the morning
In the morning
In the morning
In the morning

In the morning
In the morning
In the morning
In the morning
