

Never Alone

Newton Faulkner

When I lose my way and I can't get out
And my head get's filled with clouds of doubt
When it rains it pours, soaked to the bone
I can barely find my way back home

Though I know it's hard
You never leave me feeling like I'm owned by scars
You saved me countless times from my own disregard
Without you I don't know where I would go, oh

You don't have to say I already know
Even on my own I'm never alone
Sometimes I suffocate from the weight of the world
You don't have to say I already know
Woah, I'm never alone
Woah, I'm never alone

Everytime I walk out that door
I know you'll be there to break my fall
I don't need to hear you'll be there
It is in my heart everywhere

Though I know it's hard
You never leave me feeling like I'm all but scars
You said me kinda times for my own disregard
Without you I don't know where I would go, oh

You don't have to say I already know
Even on my own I'm never alone
Sometimes I suffocate from the weight of the world
You don't have to say I already know
Woah, I'm never alone
Woah, I'm never alone

Woah, woah, woah, woah...

Woah, I'm never alone
Woah, I'm never alone
Woah, I'm never alone
Woah, I'm never alone

You don't have to say I already know
Even on my own I'm never alone
Sometimes I suffocate from the weight of the world
You don't have to say I already know

You don't have to say I already know
Even on my own I'm never alone
Sometimes I suffocate from the weight of the world
You don't have to say I already know
Woah, I'm never alone
Woah, I'm never alone
Woah, I'm never alone
Woah, I'm never alone

Woah, I'm never alone
Woah, I'm never alone

Woah, I'm never alone
Woah, never alone
