

Take What You Want

Newton Faulkner

For so many years I've
Tried to make the best everything
With pain in my soul
Now there's no where to go, I'm Tried of waiting for my life to begin

Over the hill on the other side
I know the sun will rise
Nowhere to run, nowhere to hide
Still something left inside

I can't find another minute
It's already been to long, oh oh oh
Take what you want
Yea, you pushed me to the limit
And I'm tired of being wrong, oh oh oh
Take what you want

Don't know where I belong But
I know it probably isn't here
Can't keep moving along in denial that it's wrong, I
Don't wanna live my life in nothing but fear

Over the hill on the other side
I know the sun will rise

I can't find another minute
It's already been to long, oh oh oh
Take what you want
Yea, you pushed me to the limit
And I'm tired of being wrong, oh oh oh
Take what you want

I'm done trying
Not to find, what I can see
No more crying
Breaking down, on my knees

I can't find another minute
It's already been to long, oh oh oh
Take what you want
Yea, you pushed me to the limit
And I'm tired of being wrong, oh oh oh
Take what you want
I can't find another minute
It's already been to long, oh oh oh
Take what you want
