

Damned Nice Weekend

Ängie

We stood at the peak of the rush
We said it was the two of us
Under heat of sunlight
In longing of limelight

Forever until 6 AM
Until everything starts to end
'Cause it was a rush
A poisonous rush

We fled from the city's pipe dreams
In the jungle, we thought we found something real
But we didn't find anything
Yeah. We didn't know anything

It was a damned nice weekend
A damned nice weekend
A damned nice weekend
We were too intoxicated
A damned nice weekend
A damned nice weekend
A damned nice weekend
But you just forgot everything

It was a damned nice weekend
A damned nice weekend
A damned nice weekend
We were too intoxicated
A damned nice weekend
A damned nice weekend
A damned nice weekend
But you just forgot everything

Held each other in grassy plains
Entirely fucked up in the midsummer rain
We said it was me and you
Until it struck 2
'Cause then it was through

We're back in the village again
In the jungle, I thought that we had something
But you couldn't remember me
Now, they're just my memories

It was a damned nice weekend
A damned nice weekend
A damned nice weekend
We were too intoxicated
A damned nice weekend
A damned nice weekend
A damned nice weekend
But you just forgot everything

It was a damned nice weekend

A damned nice weekend
But you just forgot everything

Trade the city for flowers
Ecstasy, angel choirs
You said it was just us two
But I never heard from you
You

It was a damned nice weekend
A damned nice weekend
But you just forgot everything

It was a damned nice weekend
But you just forgot everything

Only a rush
Only a rush
Only a rush
Only a rush
