Phonograph

Ängie

Do you remember that tune we had?
It sounded old like a phonograph
Do you remember that melody?
I still hear it every time I sleep

This is a classic romance
We'll get so high we never stand a chance

But I'd break down anytime for you
Over and over, over and over again
And I'd sleep all day just to dream of you
Over and over, over and over again

Maybe I'm wrong, maybe it's true
I only breathe so that I breathe with you
But it'll fade out like a worn out cassette
And all of my favorite things that I can't relate to anymore

This is a classic romance
We'll get so high we never stand a chance

But I'd break down anytime for you
Over and over, over and over again
And I'd sleep all day just to dream of you
Over and over, over and over again
But I'd break down anytime for you
Over and over, over and over again
And I'd sleep all day just to dream of you
Over and over, over and over again
