

Lost

Jalen N'Gonda

Ooh, oh, ooh
Standing at the end of the road of a broken love affair
Hoping to hear your voice in the midst of the smokey air
If I could see your face, lord it would erase
Every feeling of sorrow that's ever crossed my mind

You I must find, 'cause hopelessly I'm lost
Without you
I'm lost
And I can't seem to find my way

Will I ever, ever know the feelin' of your spark again?
That lights up my world in a sweet on and off bliss
If I could feel your touch, girl, that would be enough, oh
To rearrange all the worries in my little mind

You I must find, cause hopelessly I'm lost
Without you
I'm lost
And I can't seem to find my way

Ooh, we-ooh

If you could see me laugh amongst the crowd, it's all for show
I hold back the tears until the last one walks out the door
If you could see my stare, girl would you too relate?
To the blues that's stricken my little mind

You I must find, 'cause hopelessly I'm lost
Without you
I'm lost
And I can't seem to find my way
