She said, "Where we going?"
I said, "Baby, why you driving from the backseat, yeah"
She said, "If you want me, you can have me, yeah"
But I don't remember asking, no
So I took her down to Mexico
Think she fell in love on the road
Fell in love [?]

Hands up, top down, she a dancer
Bad love, but she'll do it for the cameras
Can't run 'cause she looking for an answer
It's bad love, bad love
Bad love's got her falling for a random
Handcuffed, but at least she ain't abandoned
That's tough, 'cause he's holding her for ransom
Some bad love, bad love

She said, "Where we going?"
I said, "Baby, why you driving from the backseat, yeah"
She said, "If you want me, you can have me, yeah"
But I don't remember asking, no
So I took her down to Mexico
Think she fell in love on the road

Baby wanna ride through the city
But the lights are getting dimmer
In the skyline of the city
She been down ever since
She found out the world was gimme gimme
Now it's everywhere that I go
She just want me, take her with me

Why would we wait, what's the point of a break
Why we presenting this ain't another mistake
Take the O from the Vogue and swap it in with an A
Wipe that look from your face, babe, all you being is vague

She said, "Where we going?"
I said, "Baby, why you driving from the backseat, yeah"
She said, "If you want me, you can have me, yeah"
But I don't remember asking, no
Think she fell in love on the road
Fell in love [?]
