

Trust Your Insides

Nic D

Seems like before I knew it I was 26 and I have a wife now
We have a place to live and we have a kid and
No, it ain't always easy but is simply bliss
'Cause if you really pay attention to it
Life is a gift

I've been working hard
Extremely hard for like 10 years
My mind is spinning and I can't stop the wheels
Yeah

Stop to be
There's a lot to see
I rarely even just stop to breath
Sometimes I just wanna hang around
Like an apostrophe

And there's nothing wrong with work
Just don't make it the center of your life
I have been struggling with that for like
I don't know, ask my wife
But it's been a minute and there somehow time goes missing
And you think you could find it but it's gone and you wish it was different

Don't try to figure out your life just yet
Take time and trust your insides
And oh oh oh
And trust your insides
Oh oh oh
Trust your insides

As the years go by you start to realize
That you care a little bit more than you thought you did
You got your grown up pants on
Good for you
Dust off the dirt, can make your next move
You can do anything that you choose~

Maybe love somebody old
Maybe love somebody new
Yes, there's pain in this life
It ain't easy but you're gonna get through

Maybe take your next paycheck
And spend it all on some shoes
Or maybe help someone in need
After all, it's up to you
But is no judge me regardless
It's you life
Live it

Just know that greatness is in the moment of the decision
And in never moment we face one
That moment is gone in a blink
It's crazy, ain't it?
We got more control than we think

Take time and trust your insides
And oh oh oh
And trust your insides
Oh oh oh
Trust your insides
