

Cold Night (Zero Degrees)

Nick Carter

Your frozen breath when it was cold outside
Reciting you're leaving and I almost died
Hypothermia setting in I can't lie
Cause you know that I can't live without you
Zero degrees will shattered my heart into pieces
Promise if you give me one more chance I'll make it better
Better for you
Just tell me what I gotta do

It's going to be a cold cold night
If I can have you here by my side
Without you ain't the same
There's nothing I can change
It's gonna be
A cold cold night
I know you're gone but I'll still keep the fire burning
Hoping the silhouette will lead you right back to me
Back to me
It's gonna be a cold cold night

Praying that all my angels send me back your heart
I would give anything
For the end to start again
And I try to pretend
You're leaving didn't affect me
But these tears just won't let me
But your...
Zero degrees is breaking my heart into pieces
Knowing you're hurting and no way that I can make it better
Better for you
Just tell me what I gotta do

It's going to be a cold cold night
If I can have you here by my side
Without you ain't the same
There's nothing I can change
It's gonna be a cold cold night
I know you're gone but I'll still keep the fire burning
Hoping the silhouette will lead you right back to me
Back to me
It's gonna be a cold cold night

It's going to be a cold cold night
If I can have you here by my side
Without you ain't the same
There's nothing I can change
It's gonna be a cold cold night

It's going to be a cold cold night
If I can have you here by my side
Without you ain't the same
There's nothing I can change
It's gonna be a cold cold night
I know you're gone but I'll still keep the fire burning
Hoping the silhouette will lead you right back to me
Back to me
It's gonna be a cold cold night
