

Heart Without a Home (I'll Be Yours)

Nick Carter

Girl I love to watch you
You're like candy to my eyes
Like a movie that you've seen
But gotta watch just one more time
But that smile you're wearing
It's a beautiful disguise
It's just something you put on
To hide the emptiness inside
And you seem so lonely
But you don't have to anymore

If you're a heart without a home
A rebel without a cause
If you feel as though you're always
Stranded on the shore
Like a thief in the night
Let me steal your heart away
Baby, if a reason's
What you're looking for
I'll be yours, I'll be yours

You need a new sensation
One you've never had before
I got a feeling if I gave you some You'd probably want some more
Did you know that baby
You're the bluebird in my sky
I only wanna make you happy
'cause I love to see you fly
And if you feel lonely
You don't have to anymore

If you're a heart without a home
A rebel without a cause
If you feel as though you're always
Stranded on the shore
Like a thief in the night
Let me steal your heart away
Baby, if a reason's
What you're looking for
I'll be yours, I'll be yours

I'll be yours
I'll be the raft in the tide
I'll be yours
I'll be the truth in a lie
And what's more
When no one opens the door
I'll be the home
That you're looking for

If you're a heart without a home
Stranded on the shore
Like a thief in the night

Baby, if a reason`s
What you`re looking for

If you`re a heart without a home
If you feel as though you`re always
Stranded on the shore
Like a thief in the night
Baby, if a reason`s
What you`re looking for
