

My Confession

Nick Carter

I'm just trying to figure out what's wrong with your head
Every time I look around you're someone else instead
I want to ask you why but everytime I try, you cry
And I want you to know when you're floating in space
And I want you to know if you come back down
And I need you to know

I want to breath you
I want to feel you near
This is my confession

I want to see what you see when you cry those tears
Give me just a second, what am I to do?
Maybe it's obsession
But this is my confession

I confess, every time I come around
Something's always got you down
And I don't understand why
And if you want to tell me
I'll be the angel on your shoulder, baby
I'll be the man that you confide in
But I can't seem to Get you out that place
And everything you do is just
Erasing the pain (and it's not right)
Hatred inside, I can't ask why
And I want you to know when you're floating in space
And I want you to know if you come back down
And I need you to know

I want to breath you
I want to feel you near
This is my confession

I want to see what you see when you cry those tears
Give me just a second, what am I to do?
Maybe it's obsession
But this is my confession

And I want you to know when you're floating in space
And I want you to know if you come back down
And I need you to know

I want to breath you, I want to feel you near
This is my confession (This is my confession)

I want to see what you see when you cry those tears
This is my confession (give me just a second)
I want to breath you, I want to feel you near
Maybe it's obsession
This is my confession

I want to see what you see when you cry those tears, yeah yeah
This is my confession
This is my confession
