Searchlight

Nick Carter

Every darkness has a day
Just like every heartache has a break
Just like me to think it wouldn't happen to me and you
The love we had fell away
Feel it streaming down, down my face
Every drop I gave you could've filled a swimming pool

Now you say you wanna come back
And I wanna try so bad
But I gave you all that I had
Now I got nothing left

Baby, tonight
Can't get you out my mind
Someone tell me—why can't I find
One more tear to cry?

Baby, tonight
Can't hear you say goodbye
Someone tell me—why can't I find
One more tear to cry?

Send out a searchlight
Send out, send out a searchlight
Send out, send out a searchlight
Send out, send out a searchlight
For one more tear to cry

You're the air I wanna breathe
You're my everything—I believe
I did everything, every inch, all of it for you and me

I said I won't go back again
The touch of your skin, a kiss—then you're pulling me in
You say you won't leave me again
Now I'm seeing red
'Cause I know that this is the end tonight

Can't get you out my mind
Someone tell me—why can't I find
One more tear to cry?

Baby, tonight
Can't hear you say goodbye
Someone tell me—why can't I find
One more tear to cry?

Send out a searchlight
Send out, send out a searchlight
Send out, send out a searchlight
Send out, send out a searchlight
For one more tear to cry

Send out, send out a searchlight
Send out, send out a searchlight
Send out, send out a searchlight
For one more tear to cry

No more—one more tear to cry
No more—I gave you all mine
No more—all this love went dry

No more—one more tear to cry
No more—one last goodbye
No more—no matter how hard I try

Baby, tonight
Can't get you out my mind
Someone tell me—why can't I find
One more tear to cry?
Baby, tonight
Can't hear you say goodbye
Someone tell me—why can't I find
One more tear to cry?
