

All These Changes

Nick Hakim

All the limbs in her are changing
Growing pain, the hope is fading
Can we bring her love back to health?
We've been guests here for a while
The mortal power lives in style
But everything comes to an end
Some have felt it in her eyes
Cities burning, tides that rise
She's in pain, she's been hurting
Can you feel our mother raging?
She'll flood us out, her heart is flaming
Pretty soon we'll be underwater

Pretty soon we'll be drifting in the ocean
And we'll grow scales so we can breathe
We'll start growing again in the motion
Of her womb, she'll fill our lungs with the sea
We'll be floating through the current and we'll see
New York under our feet

All the limbs in her are changing
Growing pain, the hope is fading
Can we bring her love back to health?
'Cause we've been guests here for a while
The mortal power lives in style
But everything comes to an end
Some have felt it in her eyes
Cities burning, tides that rise
She's in pain, she's been hurting
And can you feel our mother raging?
She'll flood us out, her heart is flaming
Pretty soon we'll be underwater

Oh
Oh, she will drown us
She is raging
Growing pains
Hope is fading
She will drown us
She is raging
Growing pains
Hope is fading
She will drown us
She is raging
Growing pains
Hope is fading
