

(You're My) Wildest Dream

Nick Lowe

You're my wildest dream
I can't believe that you look so good
I am begging please
Come back here let me dream you again

Well, I'm not what you'd call a catch
I ain't good looking and I ain't rich
And I'm bent double under a weight of loneliness

Well, I need someone to call my own
And I've been looking for so long
For someone nice to fill my days
And empty nights the way I want

You're my wildest dream
I can't believe that you look so good
I am begging please
Come back here let me dream you again

Well, I sometimes have to hang around
The pick-up places and so on
But every time I find a bit
I never hit

Well, I won't be up to that no more
I've found myself a permanence
One who'll come day or night
And hit the light and hold me tight

You're my wildest dream
I can't believe that you look so good
I am begging please
Come back here let me dream you again

Well, I won't be up to that no more
I've found myself a permanence
One who'll come day or night
And hit the light and hold me tight

You're my wildest dream
I can't believe that you look so good
I am begging please
Come back here let me dream you again

I say you're my wildest dream
I can't believe that you look so good
I am begging please
Come back here let me dream you again
