

Well I'll see you around if you think thats okay cause I'm missing your voice, I miss seeing your face its the last thing I heard and the first thing I saw in the morning

Is it warm where you are? I hope the weather is fine
Are your spending your nights drinking whiskey or wine?
And if you get the time you know that I'd die just to hear you and its fine if you can't, just know if you can I'll be waiting

Oh goddamn my heart,
for making me this way
Oh its tearing me apart,
and you're walking away

me I'm just fine, you know I can't complain I only miss you at night and sometimes when it rains
But beside all of that, theres nothing to cry about here
But if you change your mind oh you know that I have been waitin

Oh goddamn my heart,
for making this way
Oh its tearing me apart,
and you're walking away

Sometimes when its late and I'm trying to sleep
I wonder if you're out there thinking of me
I know this sounds dumb, but its something I think about now so if you change your mind you know that I'll be around

Oh goddamn my heart,
for making this way
Oh its tearing me apart,
and you're walkin away
I've been lost for so long now and I can't get you back cause I don't know how
