

Too Young

Nicklas Sahl

How come the air feels so heavy
Feels like my body's been possessed
Heard that a ghost can't be haunted
That is the only way I know that I'm not dead

I hear the birds sing the same old song
All of my friends tryna prove my heart wrong
You're on my mind but I know that you're gone
Can't find the words, but I'm thinking

Maybe we're just too young
Maybe it's true we're done
Maybe my heart only hurts
'Cause you showed me what it's worth
Maybe we're just too young

I know that things can't be different
Always meant to go our separate ways
Lose a part of me with every second
And all of the lonely hours turning into days

Maybe we're just too young
Maybe it's true we're done
Maybe my heart only hurts
'Cause you showed me what it's worth
Maybe we're just too young

Maybe we're just too young
Maybe we're just too young
Maybe we're just too young
