Taking my chances through madness Trying to leave my problems behind Paying off my debts to sadness I've got better things on my mind yeah Winning my race with emotion Can't waste more time falling down Pulled under like waves in the ocean Host myself but now I'm found yeah Heatwaves of anger Slowly burning down Facing all my slander Breaking all the vows yeah Had given up the truth for lies I've seen happinness come and go Finding things that money can't buy But your future is all in your soul yeah Listen Time slipping through your fingers Tomorrow has become today And as the image lingers Of hell on earth to pay yeah
