Night Moves

When I think I'm giving up
I'm starting to smoke that green
I'll cover the cubes and heartache too
Could never costly as much
And I need you around me
Yeah I need you around here
See I need you now
I got a clamming up desire
They got a lift and I have my doubts
Of which still I know they inquire
Oh and I may have most since you'd said this is big
But I guess that you kept me around again and again and again

Keep it away for a permanent day
So that maybe it would expire
Keep thinking that I'll leave this place
You can change it along the fire

Will you think of me, I don't want you to think
I'm bored now
Is there something that you can't find?

Save my words for another time but I shouldn't use them then
I can't believe I didn't spare myself the beauty of giving in
And I can't fear the end

Is there something that you can't find?
Or are you wandering now?
Is there something that you can't hide?
Or are you feeling down?
Is there something that you can't hide?

Think you're playing beside yourself thinking maybe it'd crawled in at me
We don't always look happy man but can he [?] your finale
Can he taste you
Can he take in what you want to?
All you wanna know
Is there something that you can't find?
If they're [?]
Maybe you're sane
Maybe...
Just to save some day you're away
Do you miss me baby?
Is there something that you can't find?
