

The Night Has a Way

Night Ranger

It's morning your time and midnight mine
I'm a long way from lying next to you
Now I know you're the unforgettable kind
Eyes closed and I imagine, things you do
Oh yeah!

Oh the night has a way to pull us together
I hold you for a while, and use you till the dawn
Oh, the night has a way of making me remember
While I'll never know, now that you are gone

Certain forces seem to work in the dark
Certain feelings are so hard to understand
I don't know you, but I know you by heart
Eyes closed, I can feel your trembling hand
Oh yeah!

The night has a way of pulling us together
I'll hold you for a while and move until the dawn
The night has a way of making me remember
But I'll never know, now that you are gone
