

To the Ends of the Earth

Night Verses

Haven't we all been killing ourselves?
Now the world comes crashing down
We'll pull the plug within the coming years

All I have learned is "nothing is safe"
Yeah the world keeps bleeding out
We'll pull the plug within the coming years

We've fallen further down
But we can pick back up
We've fallen further down

We're worth something more than enough
How long can we last?
We're worth something more than enough
How long can we last on our way down (We're worth something more than enough
)
Down again
On our way down (We're worth something more than enough)
How long can we last?

Pinched at the nerve in a world of mistakes
Yeah our hearts keep beating south
We'll pull the trigger in the coming years

Now I'm scared and unsure in a world of mistakes
Yeah, our hearts keep beating south
Don't pull the trigger in the coming years

We've fallen further down
But we can pick back up
We've fallen further down

We're worth something more than enough
How long can we last?
We're worth something more than enough
How long can we last on our way down (We're worth something more than enough
)
Down again
On our way down (We're worth something more than enough)
How long can we last?

Oh, just give us a reason
Oh, just give us a reason
Oh, just give us a reason
Oh, just give us a reason

We've fallen further down
But we can pick back up
We've fallen further down, no
We're headed towards the ground in need of a reason
Give us a reason

We're worth something more than enough
How long can we last?
We're worth something more than enough
How long can we last on our way down (We're worth something more than enough

)

Down again

On our way down (We're worth something more than enough)

How long can we last?

How long can we last?
