

Honest

Nightly

Are you happy now baby?
With your eyelashes on
Is it a new revelation?
Who you tryna cover up for?
Yeah, I heard that you've been changing
Heard you got a new man
You've been doing things lately I don't understand

Go ahead play pretend
The truth hurts but in the end

At least we were honest
Honestly, something isn't right
I know you're lying, babe
Lying with him at night
We used to sleep together
Through all the lows and highs
We used to see in color
Now it's just black and white
At least we were honest
At least we were honest

It was so close baby
So close I locked every door
I used to tell you everything now I can't open up anymore
Guess I'm the one that's faking, oh
I guess I'm the one that's faking now

At least we were honest
Honestly, something isn't right
I know you're lying, babe
Lying with him at night
We used to sleep together
Through all the lows and highs
We used to see in color
Now it's just black and white
At least we were honest
At least we were honest

At least we were honest
Honestly, something isn't right
I know you're lying, babe
Lying with him at night
We used to sleep together
Through all the lows and highs
We used to see in color
Now it's just black and white
At least we were honest
At least we were honest
