Nightly

I wasn't really planning on coming out to the party
I walked in and saw you standing there with somebody
So I went to go and get a drink and that's when you spilled you rs on me
And we locked eyes and you said that you're sorry

Then I saw you had a tattoo that made me ask you
"Where'd you get it"
She said in London and I bet you won't forget it
Smiled and turned her back
I couldn't think straight after that

You left my head a mess girl
What'd you do that for
Now I'm up too late just thinking about you more
You left your mark when you left me pacing
Thinking maybe I should call
You left me falling head first
You left more than just a stain on my shirt

It probably doesn't ever come across your mind babe
While I'm alone thinking about how your mouth tastes
And it doesn't feel right that you act so casual
While I'm such a wreck just tryna act rational
Spending my time just thinking about you
Baby if you only knew

You left my head a mess girl
What'd you do that for
Now I'm up too late just thinking about you more
Thinking maybe I should call
You left me falling head first
You left more than just a stain on my shirt

You left my head a mess
In your tight black dress
All the words you said I'm playing back, I'm playing back
And now my mind's wreck
Thinking about your neck
All the words you said I'm playing back, I'm playing back
