

Plot Twist

NIKI

Nothing stays the same and
Seasons keep on changin' as they do

Look what we got
A thickening plot
Just when I started getting used to
The thought
Of closing the book
There you were, in every nook
Of every word, every page
And now I wanna stay and wait, 'cause

Met every comma, every question mark
Bored of how all of the chapters start
But you feel like a brand new arc
(That I never knew, oh)
I'd like to think I know a thing or two
Like every day the sky's a different blue
And then along came you, oh
Guess

Nothing stays the same and
Seasons keep on changin' as they do
And we're all still just
Stories above concrete
X amount of heartbeats, so
Thank God for plot twists like you
Ooh, ooh, ooh, ooh

Where have you been
All of my life?
It's all growin' dim, now
That you've come to light
And who could've known, who would've thought
Between the wishbones and dot-dot-dots
There was always gonna be you and I
And now

I'm dancing barefoot in the open streets
Hangin' onto every word you speak
'Cause you keep me at the edge of my seat
(With your every move, oh)
I'd like to think I know a thing or two
Like every story ending's tried-and-true
And then along came you, oh
Guess

Nothing stays the same and
Seasons keep on changin' as they do
And we're all still just
Stories above concrete
X amount of heartbeats, so
Thank God for plot twists like you
Ooh, ooh, ooh, ooh
Ooh, ooh, ooh, ooh

(Who could've imagined

Who could've imagined you?
Who could've imagined
Who could've imagined you?)
