

One Heart Missing

Nikki Flores

Everything feels a little strange
The sunrise does not look the same
Watching my perfect world start caving in
I'm having trouble walking around
Can't tell the difference from up and down
And gravity keeps on pulling me away from you

Every world feels like a bullet now
There's no one there to catch my fall

Chorus :

So tell me how is it supposed to end
'Cause i have this empty space inside of me
Where i let you in
I can't hear the sound of it beating
It's so hard breathing i need to believe in love
So tell me how is it supposed to end
With one heart missing

My days feel like a hundred years
I'm so numb i can't feel my fears
Everyone keeps on telling me that this will pass
Now i'm stuck, stuck here in this lost and found
There's no one there to hear my call

So tell me how is it supposed to end
'Cause i have this empty space inside of me
Where i let you in
I can't hear the sound of it beating
It's so hard breathing i need to believe in love
So tell me how is it supposed to end
With one heart missing

So tell me how is it supposed to end
'Cause i have this empty space inside of me
Where i let you in
I can't hear the sound of it beating
It's so hard breathing i need to believe in love
So tell me how is it supposed to end
With one heart missing

Somebody show me how to love again
'Cause i can't find a piece of me that you're in

So tell me how is it supposed to end
'Cause i have this empty space
Where i let you in

So tell me how is it supposed to end
'Cause i have this empty space inside of me
Where i let you in
I can't hear the sound of it beating
It's so hard breathing i need to believe in love
So tell me how is it supposed to end
With one heart missing

So tell me how is it supposed to end
'Cause i have this empty space inside of me
Where i let you in
I can't hear the sound of it beating
It's so hard breathing i need to believe in love
So tell me how is it supposed to end
With one heart missing
