

DIAMOND

Niko Moon

I've seen the sun go down on the Hollywood sign
New York City lit up at night
And them autumn leaves when they paint the trees in Georgia
And out of the all the places that I ever stood
God's handywork never looked so good
As those redwoods growing wild in California

Yeah, I've seen paradise
More than once or twice
But girl I'd trade it all to see that look in your eyes
Nothing else I'd rather do
You're my favorite view
Yeah, you know, there's nothing that compares to you

'Cause, girl, you're a diamond
Lighting up the room, the way you're shining
Everything you do, yeah it's so timeless, I'm talking priceless
You're a diamond

Been to Tokyo, seen the cherry trees
Watched Big Ben turn from them London streets
And that Opera House in Sydney just blew my mind
Yeah, I hitched a ride on a boat in Venice
Cheers'd in Dublin with a pint of Guinness
But I'd still choose you darlin', every time

Yeah, I've seen paradise
More than once or twice
But girl I'd trade it all to see that look in your eyes
Nothing else I'd rather do
You're my favorite view
Yeah, you know, there's nothing that compares to you

'Cause, girl, you're a diamond
Lighting up the room, the way you're shining
Everything you do, yeah it's so timeless, I'm talking priceless
You're a diamond

A woman like you's so hard to find
Been diggin' my way to you all my life
Whoa, whoa, oh
A woman like you's so hard to find
Been diggin' my way to you all my life
Whoa, whoa

'Cause, girl, you're a diamond
Lighting up the room, the way you're shining
Everything you do, yeah it's so timeless, I'm talking priceless
You're a diamond
(Whoa, whoa, oh)
Girl, you're a diamond
Everything you do, yeah, it's so timeless, priceless
You're a diamond
