Should I cut my serotonin with a lie to make it last?
Should I power pose in panda face and cry, "I'm never sad"?
If I joke about the end, could I trick myself to laugh? Ha
Say I'm savage when really, I'm just average
Maybe if I gave my life to money, I'd be happy
Dumb and dumber, martyrdumb it down for greener grasses
Maybe if I never tried unpacking my baggage
Say I'm savage when really, I'm just average

I find that everyday that it gets harder to admit
That when the mask misfits and my stomach feels sick
Maybe I'm a piece of shit? (Yeah-yeah, yeah-yeah)
Maybe I should just quit? (Yeah-yeah, yeah-yeah)
But I reach between the dopamine to find a thread of meaning
Find a finer line to walk that might actually redeem
A little shred of positivity (Yeah-yeah, yeah-yeah)
A little tiny bit of energy (Yeah-yeah, yeah-yeah)

I'm talkin' to you
Please tell me the truth
Please tell me what I should do?
Maybe my brain, it'll listen to you
I'm huntin' silver lines
But I only see them when out of my mind
Die for genuine smile
Lower than low, it could take me a while

I can't do that, I'm too insecure
