The Apple Tree

Nina Nesbitt

Once, once upon a time
Thought that you'd be mine
But then you let your colors shine
I wanted to believe
That you were right for me
Well how could I be so naive

Now we're broken
Forget me not
I'm falling down and I can't stop

Let's go down to the apple tree
Naive as Adam and Eve
Oh oh oh oh, oh oh oh oh oh
Let's go down to the apple tree
Fighting against gravity
Oh oh oh oh, oh oh oh oh

Falling too deep
So can you catch me?

Twice, twice I caught you out
My head was in the clouds
But I woke up and came around
To see, you play stupid games
Temptation in your way
Cause I went so fast from love to hate

Now I'm broken
Was this your plan
I'm falling down and I don't understand

Let's go down to the apple tree
As naive as Adam and Eve
Oh oh oh oh, oh oh oh oh oh
Let's go down to the apple tree
Fighting against gravity
Oh oh oh oh, oh oh oh oh

Falling too deep
So can you catch me?

You keep playing, you keep playing
I keep praying, I keep praying
That we could have been us
You keep playing, you keep playing
I keep saying, I keep saying
That it should have been us

So let's go down to the apple tree
As naive as Adam and Eve
Oh oh oh oh, oh oh oh
Let's go down to the apple tree
Fighting against gravity

Falling too deep, can you catch me?

Falling too deep, mmm, can you catch me?
Falling too deep, can you catch me? Can you catch me?
