

You Must Have Another Lover

Nina Simone

Cell

Something's going on I believe our love is gone
I don't even feel it when we touch
You're keeping it to yourself
Your heart is somewhere else
Lately we don't even talk that much

Say you must have another lover
Another lover undercover
I know you got another love somewhere
I know you must have another lover
I know you got another love somewhere

Oh when I'm holding you
Baby it's not the same
The feeling that I always get from you
And when we're making love
It seems kind of strange
That you are calling someone else's name

I say you must have another lover
Another lover undercover
I know you got another love somewhere
I know you must have another lover
I know you got another love somewhere

Hey now you have told last night all by yourself
To say that you were going for a ride
Hey but baby when I saw you at that exclusive place
Someone else was close by your side

I say you must have another lover
Another lover undercover
I know you got another love somewhere
I say you must have another lover
Another lover undercover
I know you got another love somewhere

You must have another lover
Another lover undercover
I know you got another love somewhere
