

Fall For You

Nina

There's a right or wrong to know for everything
And the truth is written somewhere in between
But there's always something missing in the dark
There you will find the true condition of the heart

Well I can visualize the pieces of a dream
And it's not as far away as it may seem
But if truth be told it's you that holds the key
To the question that defines my destiny

I've been in love a time or two
I've seen the world but not with you
I wanna fly and spread my wings
Don't wanna cry, I wanna sing
I wanna live and take a chance
I'm not afraid to love again
I wanna fall, fall for you
And I want you to fall for me too

I've had plenty conversations my heart
Cuz I want this thing to work, not fall apart
Oh, I ask my heart how can it be so sure
And it answers me because your hear pure

I have every expectation that it's true
Cuz my heart won't lie to me, much less to you
But if truth be told it's you that holds the key
To the future that becomes our destiny

I've been in love a time or two
I've seen the world but not with you
I wanna fly and spread my wings
Don't wanna cry, I wanna sing
I wanna live and take a chance
I'm not afraid to love again
I wanna fall, fall for you
And I want you to fall for me too

To the mountain snow that melts into the stream
My heart flows like that river to the sea
To the heavens up above
I pray to God our destiny is love

I've been in love a time or two
I've seen the world but not with you
I wanna fly and spread my wings
Don't wanna cry, I wanna sing
I wanna live and take a chance
I'm not afraid to love again
I wanna fall, fall for you
And I want you to fall for me too